My Energy Healing Work

I work with the physical, emotional, mental, and spiritual patterns of the body, creating balance and harmony for the entire person. When all systems are in balance they become a unified healthy being. Energy work helps one to regain their natural joyful nature. I am grateful and excited to be a part of this process.

Most of my life revolved around dance. I began studying ballet at a young age. Entering the world of modern dance I was fortunate to find work in companies that extensively toured the United States and Europe. Dancing and touring in my late teens and early adult years taught me about myself. Not surprisingly, the most important lessons combined the joy of dancing and the very real limits of my physical body.

After many years I developed severe lower back problems. Friends recommended seeing a healer. Having no idea of what a “healer” was, but feeling intrigued and needing relief from my injuries, I went to Rosalyn Bruyere’s Healing Light Center in Los Angeles. I did find relief from a substantial injury and continued to perform and teach for many more years. And, I became hooked on energy healing as a profound method to address physical conditions as well as emotional, mental and spiritual challenges.

I feel fortunate to have been taught and mentored over many years by very gifted energy healing teachers including Bear McKay, Rosalyn Bruyere, Billie Hammond (Rayla), and Helen Rosenstock. In addition to energy healing, I studied EastWest Somatics with Sondra Fraleigh, and continue to study and practice meditation, tai chi, chi gung, yoga, and Pangu Shengong. Currently, I live, work, practice, and enjoy life in Bend, Oregon.
