

Personal Profile - Phyllis Vandermolen

Through her gifts of compassion, wisdom and insight, Phyllis brings healing to your body and spirit. She is a level IV McKay Method student practitioner. For 15 years experience she has had her own practice as a licensed massage therapist. She has studied other forms of energy healing, (Reiki, level II, therapeutic touch, and theta healing), and she is a Deeksha blessing giver. Since 2002, she has been involved with Impact Trainings, an intensive life-training program. She has coached trainees in the program, assisting them to shift their beliefs and behaviors to create the results they want in their lives. She also is a business associate with New Earth, a company that offers organic, raw, wild, whole food supplements.

Phyllis is passionate about healthy food, caring for mother earth, and spiritual growth. She loves this work because it allows her to combine all her passions into one package. She hikes, does yoga, jogs, and putters in her scraggly garden. She loves spending time with her family, especially her delightful little granddaughter, and dancing. She is a performer in a group that performs music and dance of Eastern Europe.

As a level IV student practitioner, my fee is $40. If you feel drawn to work with me, I would love to embark on this healing journey together. I am available for sessions in person in Salt Lake City, or by phone. Blessings.
